Possibility in every drop

Life is full of challenges...

If you like them, and you would like to try out yourself out in an excellent international company, we have a challenge for you.

Grundfos Manufacturing Hungary is ready to offer you an exciting final thesis topic. In our global, complex organization, the new or changed design introduction goes across several interested parties and stages from the design desk through external suppliers, to the assembly plants. We would like to get this end-to end process reviewed, the improvement opportunities to be identified, and design the future state.
